

Schadenfreud

I can't explain why I am smiling
It doesn't look like this is any fun for you
I'm straining for my empathy; I want to hope you'll make it through...

But you've been pissing in my ear;
Doesn't matter that I know you've never said my name.
Your fingernails on chalkboard voice, it made me wish the worst on you...

CHORUS:

I want to take the higher ground
I'm trying hard to keep my better instincts at the ready
Don't want to cut you when you're down
But sometimes it's so hard to keep myself from breaking out in laughter...

I know that it is low to think
Let alone say you make it hard to be a better person
I wanted to be unconcerned, but all I did was came up wanting...

CHORUS
